

Live Stream Assembly Program "Go with the Flow"

FREE to selected schools in Marin County in 2020-21

The Wastewater Treatment Agencies of Marin County are delighted to offer your school the opportunity to register for a free environmental education live stream assembly presented by Doug Nolan of Rock Steady Juggling from his home studio.

It's likely that schools will be open in the fall of 2020, but not allowed to have in person assembly programs. Students and teachers can live stream this interactive assembly performance in their classrooms.

"GO WITH THE FLOW" features an online forum showcasing precision juggling, magic, comedy, and interactive games to teach students about wastewater science and how they can help the environment.

SCHOOL ASSEMBLY DETAILS:

- We are pleased to cover all program costs. There is no cost to your school!
- Each school is entitled to one show for students grades 3-5.
- The performance is approximately 40 minutes.
- For more information about the show, go to: www.RockSteadyJuggling.com

Preference is given for schools that can arrange a date in the fall.
